CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION

HAUS CRAMER. OBJECT

3 1 | Fritz Stahl, Hermann Muthesius: Haus Cramer – Dahlem (1915)
Period art and architecture critic appraises Haus Cramer upon its completion and establishes this Muthesius-built residence as an icon of New Building.

11 2 | Hermann Muthesius, Art and Machine (1902)
Architect and Werkbund theorist weighs in on the aesthetics of industrial building and traditional artisanship.

17 3 | Burckhardt Fischer [Remix], Country Living on the Urban Periphery
Preservation architect and curator of Haus Cramer since 1988 plumbs the ideals and lifeworld of its inhabitants from ground plans and letters.

VEIT LAURENT KURZ, HOTEL BERLIN

45 4 | Julius Posener, Campaign to Save Heritage Houses (1969 and 1977)
Tagespiegel-campaign directed against Wall-enclosed West Berlin's land use policy, where utility and building density trumped historic preservation.

51 5 | Julius Posener, Opening Lecture of the Hermann Muthesius Exhibition at the Berlin Academy of Arts (1977)
Acclaimed historian of architecture expounds on Muthesius's England-inflected German "Landhaus" design.

63 6 | Geoffrey Tyack, From the Red House to Haus Cramer: Hermann Muthesius and the "Domestic Revival" in Britain and Germany
Historian of architecture and many-year director of Stanford in Oxford reflects on Haus Cramer from the perspective of the English country cottage.

69 7 | Fabian Ludovico, The Country Home as Refuge from City Life: The Early Countryside Architecture of Hermann Muthesius
Director of the museums of the city of Bamberg reviews the architectural and sociopolitical context of Muthesius' early country houses.

HAUS CRAMER. LESSONS

GERTRUD BRUCK [CRAMER], FROM THE DIARY OF A FEMALE HIGH SCHOOLER [EXCERPTS] (1902)

85 8 | Lilian Cramer Randall, Carpe Diem* and Haus Cramer

Distinguished curator of medieval manuscripts, who lived in Haus Cramer as a toddler, reflects on family history and its archival preservation.

97 9 | Ariane Wessel, The Berlin Stock Exchange: Hans Cramer and the Grain Trade

Economic historian conjures up the innovative business culture that yielded the family fortune.

105 10 | Cheryce von Xylander, Lyonel Feininger's Caricature of the Grain Trade

Unpacking a satiric cartoon from 1900 by Bauhaus artist of the protectionist German grain trade, its costly "Rye Tariff" and Junker influence.

109 11 | Cheryce von Xylander, Charlottenschule: Unfinishing the New Woman

Historian/philosopher follows Gertrud Bruck Cramer into first-wave feminism in Kaiserreich Prussia where she joins a surreptitious educational initiative and becomes the nation's thirty-sixth female to receive the Abitur.

135 12 | Matthias Pabsch, A Work of Art in Its Own Right: The Cramer Collection — Art, Craftwork, and Architecture

Artist and lecturer at Stanford in Berlin brings to life the visual culture of the Cramers and their extensive circle of artistic friends and associates.

157 13 | Dominik von König, The Return of Charlotte Cramer: The Painter Leo von König

Son of Berlin Secession artist Leo von König reflects on his father's work and 1928-portrait of Charlotte Cramer.

165 14 | Wolf-Dietrich Junghanns, Haus Cramer as Playground, Gymnasium, and Sport Field

Cultural historian situates German athletics of the early twentieth century in its political contexts.

ALFRED DÖBLIN, ALICE BEREND, ARNOLD ZWEIG ET AL., LAUREATE LINEUP ON THE OMNIBUS (1929)

221 15 | Burckhardt Fischer [Remix], Gardens in Conflict: Eleven Takes on Vicinity

Architect-curator of Haus Cramer contrasts its garden design with that of the neighboring house, where the SS would later coordinate the "Germanic transformation" of Eastern European agriculture.

CRAMERS EXEUNT

MAUREEN BELASKI, PATCHWORK U.S.A.

243 16 | Karen Ruoff Kramer and Cheryce von Xylander, Note to the Reader

Editorial comment on the ravages of fascism as witnessed by the Cramers after Hitler became chancellor of Germany.

247 17 | Gertrud Bruck Cramer, Thoughts on Her Last Day in Berlin, Letter (1936)

Family matriarch recalls the Nazi boycott of Jewish businesses on April 1, 1933, and what it meant for the Cramer family.

251 18 | Frederick "Fritz" H. Cramer, The Bitter End: An Accounting (1937)

Cramer son itemizes his family's dwindling budget on American Merchant Lines stationery en route to U.S. exile.

255 19 | Cheryce von Xylander, Unheard Dispatches: The Writings of Frederick H. Cramer, Affectionately Styled "Fritz"

Covert political messaging in the work of the Cramer family's son.

269 20 | Frederick "Fritz" H. Cramer, Letter to Albert Einstein (1938)

Request for a letter of recommendation.

ROCHELLE GOLDBERG, DEAD FLOWERS

HAUS CRAMER. STANFORD

277 21 | Susan Brown, From Airlift to Airbridge: Stanford University and the Free University of Berlin

Stanford alumna recovers the special relationship between Stanford and the Free University of Berlin initiated by students in Palo Alto in 1948–49.

301 22 | Karen Ruoff Kramer, Learning Berlin-Style

Director emerita revisits the yin and yang of learning and teaching at Stanford in Berlin over half a century—and rehearses the workings of informed randomness.

MAUREEN BELASKI, MAP OF H. G. WILL TRIPS

335 23 | Uli Brückner, Twenty Years of H. G. Will Trips in the New Europe: Field Studies on the State of European Integration
Jean Monnet Chair who designs and leads the H. G. Will Trips in the New Europe describes their significance in a rapidly changing world.

JULIUS POSENER, STANFORD LECTURE CELEBRATING THE HISTORICAL RECONSTRUCTION OF HAUS CRAMER (1989)

345 24 | Burckhardt Fischer [Remix], Haus Cramer as Stanford Campus
Thoughts on balancing the conflicting pressures of architectural preservation and institutional modernization.

SABINE BITTER AND HELMUT WEBER, WINDOWS TO GARDENS: MUTHESIUS'S ARCHITECTURE OF LOOKING

363 25 | Cheryce von Xylander, Germanium goes Silicon: Tech Transfer from Dahlem to Palo Alto
Historian/philosopher traces the digital imaginary back to Berlin modernity and the Dahlem science park initiated in 1909.

OSCAR WAGNER, BERLIN ZIGZAG (1901)

391 26 | Helmut Engel, One Hundred Years of Haus Cramer: A German-American Symphony
Berlin historic preservationist, who helped to save Haus Cramer and consulted extensively on its restoration, conjures the site's genius loci.

397 27 | Karen Ruoff Kramer, Making Stanford in Berlin
Director emerita muses on building a cross-cultural educational institution half a world away with people of like mind and shared purpose.

RENATA STIHA AND FRIEDER SCHNOCK, STRETCHING FOR SCHOLARS

Addenda

427 Contributor Bios
430 Acknowledgments
432 Haus Cramer Commonplace Book (Stanford Online Spotlight Exhibit)
433 Abbreviations for Frequently Cited Collections
434 Image Credits

All artwork and interleaf designs are originals produced for this book.
Historical texts are listed with the original date of publication.
[Remix] identifies the text as being recomposed on the basis of original notes and essays by the author.
Internal parenthetical cross-references refer to essays in this volume: (author's last name "short title").